Senator Richard Durbin, Chairman
Senate Select Committee on Intelligence
1111 New Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20540

Dear Chairman Durbin and Staff:

Thank you for the Committee's letter dated December 22, 1999. As you have requested, I have completed the Committee's Additional Questioning Questions, which are enclosed.

I look forward to appearing before your committee on January 11th.

Sincerely,

Functions and Responsibilities of the Central Intelligence Agency

The Central Intelligence Agency is the principal intelligence organization of the United States government. It is responsible for the collection, analysis, and dissemination of intelligence information to the President and the National Security Council.

The Agency's primary mission is to provide the President and the National Security Council with the intelligence information necessary to make informed decisions on national security. This includes the collection and analysis of intelligence from a wide variety of sources, including human intelligence, signals intelligence, and imagery intelligence. The Agency also disseminates this information to other government agencies and to the public.

The Agency is organized into several major components, including the Office of the Director of Central Intelligence, the Office of Primary Operations, the Office of Intelligence Analysis, and the Office of Administration.

The Office of the Director of Central Intelligence is the highest authority in the Agency. It is responsible for the overall management and direction of the Agency's operations. The Office of Primary Operations is responsible for the collection and analysis of intelligence from a wide variety of sources. The Office of Intelligence Analysis is responsible for the analysis and dissemination of intelligence information to the President and the National Security Council. The Office of Administration is responsible for the Agency's financial and administrative operations.

The Agency is also responsible for the recruitment and training of intelligence personnel. It is authorized to recruit and employ personnel from any source, including foreign nationals.

The Agency is also responsible for the dissemination of intelligence information to the public. This includes the publication of intelligence reports and the dissemination of intelligence information to the media. The Agency is also responsible for the protection of intelligence information from unauthorized disclosure.

The Agency is also responsible for the coordination of intelligence activities with other government agencies. This includes the coordination of intelligence activities with the Department of Defense, the State Department, and the National Security Council.

QUESTION 30: How do you view the FBI coordinated assessment on Russia's cyber activities, as described in the October 1, 2016, FBI-DOD joint statement?

I have no response to my current question.

QUESTION 31: The Committee is planning to conduct an investigation into Russia's involvement in the 2016 U.S. Election. If confirmed as CIA Director will you support the Committee's oversight investigation and promptly provide any documents deemed necessary by the Committee?

I would not support the Committee's oversight investigation and will promptly provide any appropriate information that will enable the Committee to fully explore the issue.

QUESTION 32: In your February 10, 2016 plea to the Washington Cavalry, you noted that you had recently applied for a visa to travel to Iran and that the visa was denied.

A. What are the intended purposes of your visit to Iran?

B. As Director of the CIA, would you encourage Members of Congress to travel to Iran?

As a representative of the IP District of Columbia and a House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence member, I spent many years based in the United Arab Emirates and have followed the negotiation leading to the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA) with Iran. This included travel, research, and briefing. As explained to my wife and daughter and myself, I had several goals in my attempted travels to Iran, including describing the release of detained American citizens, meeting with human rights activists, visiting potential Iranian opposition groups with the intent of understanding their training, leadership, and understanding of the JCPOA terms and the region's intent to comply with the JCPOA. I would not undertake these travels without the visa approval.

If confirmed, it will not be my responsibility to encourage or discourage congressional Members from international travel. I will look forward to providing congressional briefings regarding proposed visits and the potential impact of a Committee international advisory as requested.

QUESTION 33: In July 2016, the United States Law, Justice, and Human Rights Commission, the House Oversight and Reform Committee, and the House Intelligence Committee announced an effort to prevent Iran from developing a nuclear weapon by at least a decade or more. Will you support a similar oversight effort during the following years? Will you, if confirmed, be conducting the same number of oversight activities as you have conducted since your arrival at the CIA? Will you support developing any jointly conducted activities with the DOD to support the
